INSTRUCTION FOR USE

This booklet aims to show, as a guide, the projects developed throughout my training and development as an architect and whose theme are the proposed hybrid structures*.

Through a tour of a number of situations proposed by different architects and technicians who have taught me we will follow a certain number of instructions called strategic that originate the architectural world tour of my learning and career development.

It will be made from this turning point a reflection of the scale of the projects, which will be repeated in this infinite spiral that the action of projecting fed back, leaving those summarized herein consistent processes in each of its sections.

Paraphrasing the texts that presents different typological corrections and practices of occupation we wonder:

What does the present define? Or, put it in another way: What interests the architecture of the current coordinates and where can or should develop a more important role in building the future?, Theory or practice ... why choose just one?

The instrument inherent to the practice and theory of architecture is the project. The word "project" has some prospecting to the unexpected moved by the experience, intuition and our intellectual, ideological, economic and creative concerns. An architect transforms everything he does in a project.

Show, and will guide in this document the work done in the consolidated city which we believe is the most interesting way to address and abord current problems . Thus, we will show our hybrid essays on the apparent gaps generated by solar of each project, turned into the center of a number of inaccessible programmatic islands, huge secluded patios that form an urban sector underwent a process of occupation without a clear speech and that breaks the city eliminating any possible identity and centrality.

During the tour we will see how the city becomes a large scale, reflecting on the types, whereas, correction or new plant, and the establishment of programmatic, spatial and building systems .

The History of Green Cross International

Green Cross International's roots can be traced back to President Mikhail Gorbachev's time in office as Head of State of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, a period during which he spoke repeatedly about the interrelated threats humanity and our Earth face from nuclear arms, chemical weapons, unsustainable development, and the man-induced decimation of the planet's ecology.

In Spain we use 'comer' yes, when you're hungry, you eat. when you're not, you don't. when you're not, you don't.

... look no school here... to many of our proposals for the design of this school, etc...
